From on High God Will Bring The Rising Sun

Like a babe crying out for the first time, East Catholic High has grasped hold to the first breath of new life. Struggling and striving for success, the first year has proven fruitful to its purpose.

Written down in the forthcoming pages are the first moment of life at East Catholic High. The joys, sorrows, activities, and trials of the new life portray the first marks of growth. Memories will ECHO through the years recalling the happiness of building a beginning, a heritage, and a tradition.

Raise your voices in unity and strength. From the farthest East to the west—let joy resound!

St. Catherine High Gutted for ECH

Loud vibrations from a noisy drill, steady pounding of hammers, slusking of fresh plaster, a workman's whistle...constructionists are building the framework of East Catholic High School.

Even before the school term began, workers had occupied the buildings. Would the day ever come when there would be no sand piles to walk around, no wood piles to jump over? When would the paint smell seep deep into the walls; choking dust disperse to some faraway corner; blasting machines stop interrupting vital class discussions?

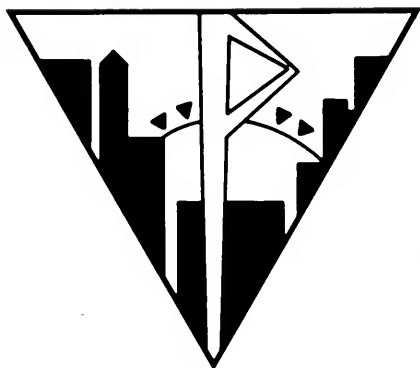

Would there come a day when umbrellas, coats, boots, hats, scarves could be put away in lockers for the entire day? Would there be a time when exchanging classes meant no running between rain drops, tramping through snow, or pitting skills against the four winds of nature?

Students anxiously anticipate walls worked in bright colors, new lights, usable doorknobs, new library, classrooms, laboratories, lavatories.

In every nook and cranny the old is new. With rejoicing hearts students are grateful to the Archdiocese for this Consolidation.

From East to West let joy resound!

Faculty Fulfills Students' Quest

The responsibility of keeping peace, order, unity at East Catholic rests upon the sturdy shoulders of Mr. Martin Keck, Principal. The masculine depth of Mr. Keck's guiding words is a familiar and welcome sound to all. His active concern, understanding, kindness has pulled students together as a family working toward a common end... A new beginning!

Aiding Mr. Keck in administration is Assistant Principal, Sister Mary Gerald. Sister's obligations range in all directions. Without her support, ECU pulse would cease to beat.

Together as a team they keep ECU thriving. Their work of today extends till tomorrow, the beginning of the future... From the East let joy resound!

for Knowledge

Sister Mary Robert, Superior, if Sister isn't filling out forms, you'll find her moving furniture, teaching English IV, or "sew, so" in her Clothing Classes.

Mrs. Birnbryer—a strong team supporter—is ever eager to join in a heated discussion be it Civics or Negro History.

Is it in English IV, or a serious problem of Counseling that Miss Mary Mills is up against with William McFarley?

Sister Barbara Ann demonstrates to Gerard Grady, Lawrence Hill the oxygen-nitrogen relationship in the atmosphere by candle use.

Mary Jane Winkler, Joseph Bertin, David Gooden have a hearty laugh with Mr. Paradis as he cracks a joke to Math pupils.

"Softly," instructs Sister Annora to her Choral Group as they entertain student body with their Christmas carols. Sister also teaches Religion.

Mrs. Oesterich, Physical Education instructor, ponders a new feat to present to the girls in order to increase their skill.

"I'll catch you one of these days," warns Mr. MacDougall, Social Studies pedagogue; but Kathy Maiale once again hands in her prized outline on time.

Sister Marie John, Journalism, Science reviews the concepts of "Ionization."

Onorio Carlesimo, Vincent Sammut are astounded at all the pre-requisites for college requirements. Sister Evangelista, head of the Guidance Department, expounds these facts to the Juniors.

Whether in American History or Communicative Arts, Sister Eulalia sets forth every effort to aid her students in reading skills. Calvin Davis, Taft Ervin, Richard Bua are now objects of her deep concern.

"Free verse is one of the characteristics used by modern poets in their escape from traditional bonds," Sister Maria Pacis to one of her Junior English classes, reveals.

Voilà dix minutes que j'attends!" (I've been waiting for you ten minutes!) exclaims Sister Marie Ernest, French, Latin teacher, as Rose Marie Dare gropes for an answer.

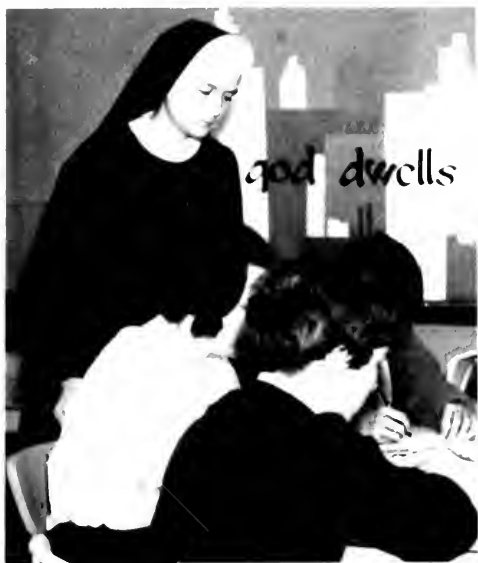

Thirty-four hours in a day wouldn't be enough to exhaust the duties of Sister Mary Ellen in her English classes and library duties.

Discussing the problem of Gross National Products, Economics, Religion, Mr. Conflitti listens to the pro and con opinions from his class concerning the high and low standards of living.

"You are an unique individual," chides Sister Ann Bernard in a dialogue to Frosh, Pamela Miroslaw.

Sister Maria Gratia, Head of the Religion Department, is a constant over-seer of Juniors in their "search for identity."

Sister Justella, Mathematics, explains that the negative parabola has a maximum vertex to Leonard Budnick.

Daniel Farchone learns the importance of precision from Drafting instructor, Sister Providentia. Sister also specializes in high school art.

Sister Marie de Sales, Freshman English teacher, delights in a well-developed discussion of the "Castle of Amontillado."

Sister John Catherine in Algebra and Basic Math checks and re-checks students' papers to prepare Freshmen for future Math.

Active Faculty Helps Unite Students

Sister Jovita, librarian, files the index cards. Sister must be anticipating the housewarming for the new auditorium library.

Sister Marie has the special privilege of supervising studies and tutoring Freshmen in Math. What a task!

The word is "Dynamics," voices Mr. Lyons in Sophomore English as the class diligently studies - "The Barnhouse Effect."

"Hands on home keys, Ready, Begin" charged Sister Marynia to typing class as they start to click away for another day.

Sister Colette, English IV, Spanish I, II indulges in informal conversation as the group shares a joke in "Spanglish." "Yo gusto la coca cola." (I like Coke.) The witty response from Albert Velasco appears to tickle Sister and the class.

"Check," voices Mrs. Fries, secretary, as she and Sister Mary Gerald coincide debits and credits in preparation for the next meeting of the School Board.

ECH Lauds Faculty

Outstanding recognition is due to each key figure of East Catholic's teaching staff. They have met the challenge of communicating to youth knowledge and truth.

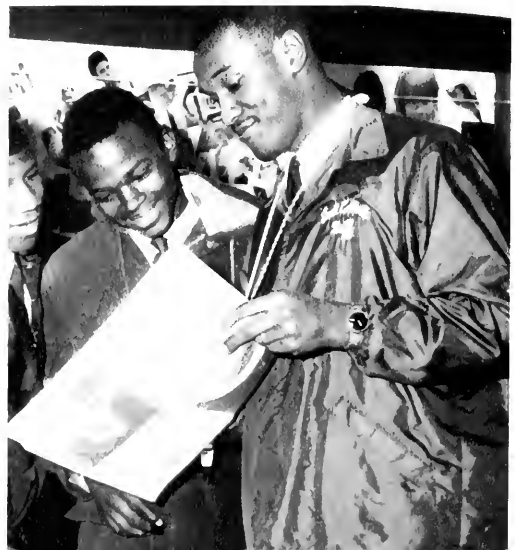

To our minds they have posed questions; to our quests, they have developed answers; to our confusion, they have instilled order; to our hearts, they have given of themselves. With laughter and joy they have striven to reach us.

In making students aware of new concepts present in a changing world, they have brought us to a deeper realization of the beginning of fulfillment through Christian education.

With indebted hearts, we thank each for the priceless heritage formed in us.

Raise your voices in unison... Let joy resound!

"What is a good coach made of?" quips Mr. Alexander, Physical Ed. instructor of Freshmen and Sophomore boys.

Sister Mary Conrad, Foods and Science, instructs an ECCP class in - "How to beat the computers."

Sister Margaret Ann, Social Studies, in World History determines the origin of the Java Man to be near Indo China - or is it Viet Nam?

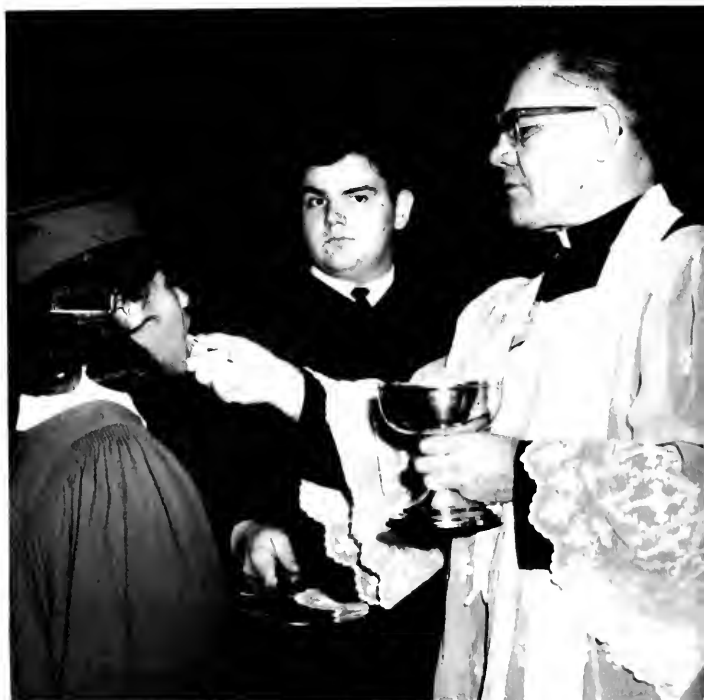

Mr. Larkin, school engineer and custodian, regulates time, also temperature. You name it; he does it.

Rev. Raymond Malyszek, St. Charles; Rev. Thomas Kerwin, St. Bernard; Rev. Arnold Schneider, Annunciation; Rev. George Gaynor, St. Rose; con-jointly celebrate the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass on the grand opening of East Catholic High School.

Con-Celebration Sanctifies Consolidation

*Rev. Joseph Kubik, St. Charles, administers Holy Communion to Linda Morton.

Rev. Thomas Downey, St. Margaret Mary, helps himself to a snack. "Man does not live by bread alone."

Rev. John Zuers of the Archdiocesan School Office, in his homily, encourages faculty and students to maintain high ideas, "to be educated is to grow in love and truth."

After the services, pastors and assistants from the Consolidated Parishes partake of a communal breakfast in ECH cafeteria. Sister Mary Robert, handmaid of the Lord, enjoys their wit and humor.

Underclassmen

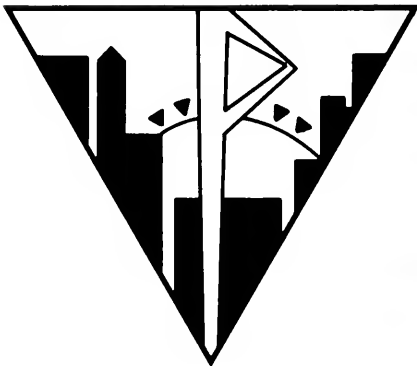

Who is the Freshman at ECH? He's the youngster fresh out of grade school, deeply concerned about the next four years. From the "big" shot of the neighborhood he is lowman on the totem pole groping for a foothold.

A football player who warms the bench, a girl who dresses for her first date, a mother's joy, a teacher's cross, a Senior's slave. A Freshman is all of these.

Talented, witty, curious are the Sophomores. Old hands at high school now, with new bursts of energy, they seek to set the world on fire. Their get-up-and-go spirit, their exuberance pulsulates throughout ECH.

Coming to the fore of prominent personalities are Juniors with their keen sense of responsibility.

Anxious to be on top, to take one step farther, to climb one rung higher, Juniors prepare for the challenge... from the East... let joy resound!

Newly elected Freshman Officers: Carolyn McGee, secretary; Marilyn Torrence, treasurer; Desiree Williams, president; Marvinna Brown, vice-president exclaims as they examine their class record book, "Who said that this is a man's world?"

Activities

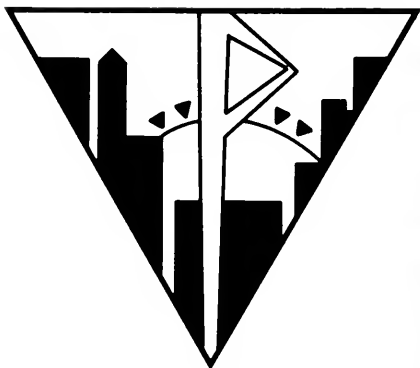

Clanging exchange bells complete one final toll at 2:45; metal lockers slam; radios sound out the driving beat of the latest music; chatter and laughter fill the halls...another long, hard day is over, and it is now time to relax. For many relaxation means club activities, athletic practice, cheer practice, extended school-day program working on the yearbook.

Today's world demands social involvement, an encounter, the rewards are a hundredfold. To meet the various interests of students, ECH has witnessed a fulfillment that is but a beginning.

Student activities during the first year have been high lighted by Kings and Queens, dances, games, parties, picnics, prom—all have been stored as fond memories of the past.

That the spirit of unity and love portrayed at East Catholic High penetrate the ends of the earth is the hope and wish of 1968 ECHO yearbook staff.

To the West... let joy resound!

Green Berets Crown Frances Queen

At the Homecoming Dance of 1967, all present felt a glow of pride and a quick excitement as the dazzling court appeared on the stage. Michael Earl Abner escorted Marvinna Brown, Freshman; Thomas Kaiser, Pamela Hill, Sophomore; Robert Cox, Catherine Williams, Junior; Joseph Dudley went arm-in-arm with Senior attendants Bonnie Blount and Frances Frezza. As the drum roll mounted, Charles Anderson, President of Student Council, aided by Irlene Didlake, Treasurer, announced the 1967 Football Queen to be Frances Frezza. Joseph Dudley and Robert Cox crowned Queen Frances with a diadem. Michael Abner and Thomas Kaiser presented American Beauty roses as everyone testified to the queenship of Frances Frezza.

Charles Anderson, Student Council President, dances to the beat of music with his Queen Frances in the entralling atmosphere of love.

A look of contained excitement lurks in the smile of Frances Frezza as she accepts the bouquet of roses from Michael Earl Abner and Thomas Kaiser at ECH first Homecoming

As with all formal affairs, a coronation may be rather trying, Frances takes a breather to rest and "powder her nose". Susan Marcotte assists in re-adjusting the coveted crown on her head.

Blue-Blood Rampant at Homecoming Ball

Miss Frances Frezza smiles with regal splendor as she accepts the crown and shower of roses as token of 1967 Homecoming Queen.

"Joy to the World" echoes from ECH Choral as they perform for the dear Saviour's birth.

Yuletide Season Resounds Christ's Joy

Led by Mr. Keck, students pray for the happy repose of the soul of their classmate, Marilyn Lootens, Soph.

The spirit of Christmas is giving and receiving. Mr. Keck experiences his first Christmas at the hands of Student Councillors; Stanley Oliver and Charles Anderson.

"O Christmas Tree; O Christmas Tree," in a joyful mood Sisters Marie John, Mary Gerald with Joe D'Herde, Ralph Morasso, David Berger display an array of Christmas records.

During the first Cap and Gown Mass, Seniors: Mary Jane Winkler, Stanley Oliver and Nora Perryman present the Offertory gifts to Msgr. Howard and servers, Robert Cox and Charles Anderson. Mr. Keck follows with the Senior rings—a token of the Seniors' offering of their lives and futures to God.

"After twelve long years, it's finally up there," Joe D'Herde exclaims in disbelief as fellow-Seniors: Francis Hoffman, Beryllin Pride, Geraldine Boyer, David VanRaaphorst help each other into cap and gown for the first time.

Ring Around the Seniors

Class Rings Sound

Forth Senior Joy

Anticipation and excitement overwhelmed Seniors as they gathered in preparation for Ring Ceremony. Down through the years, class rings have represented four years of hard study, joys, tears, and happiness for Seniors.

To the Seniors of 1968 there is a deeper meaning reflected — one of unity and identification with all the members forming the first graduating class at ECH which are symbolized within the band of gold and crest.

In caps and gowns, the Seniors proceeded up the aisle to receive solemnly their blessed ring, their treasured Class Ring as a beginning of a long line of heritage and as the opening of the doors of a new tomorrow.

Luci Re, Richard Sanchez, Sue Marcotte gaze in rapture and awe at the array of gold and precious stones on their fingers as they admire the collection of the first Class rings at ECH.

Clubs Activate Christian Lives

Variety is the spice of life, and ECH life is spiced with numerous types of clubs appealing to all students. Sports, Future Teachers, Nurses, Business, Lettermen, not to mention chess, poll, yearbook are a few of the activities in which teenagers are able to excel.

Outside activities add to a well-rounded personality which stimulates and encourages involvement, and provides for insights into the joy of Christian living.

Student Council Officers: President, Charles Anderson; Vice-President, Stanley Oliver; Treasurer, Arlene Didlake; Sister Ann Bernard, Moderator; Secretary, Lynn LaMaire shoulder ECH organizations and responsibilities.

Above: Activity Club, under direction of Mr. N. Confletti, makes out-of-in-door life more interesting. Right: Preparing to meet deadlines is a sweaty task for the yearbook staff. Under the inspiration of Sister Marie John, somehow they pull through—on time.

Consolidation of high schools has given East Catholic High an outstanding number of Lettermen. Absent—Mr. J. MacDougall, adviser, Douglas Walczak.

Future Nurses band together to learn techniques to aid humanity through their instructor, Sister Barbara Ann.

Learners today; maybe teachers tomorrow are the Future Teachers who are being initiated into the career by Sister Maria Pacis.

Peppy Pep Club wouldn't be quite so peppy if it were not for the pep pepped into them by Sister Providentia, pep-maker.

Sports

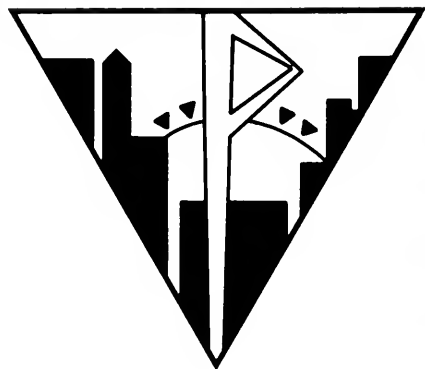

Ref's whistle blares, scoreboard buzzes, cheers arise from fans, loud speaker ECHO's the starting line-up as the shoulder pads thud against the solid earth. Rugged and rough sports challenge the player, enliven the spectator.

Student unity and spirit is displayed at each game. With every victory, with every loss, the hard fought struggle has brought personal triumph to each achieving to do his best.

Depicted within these pages are the efforts, trials, and fruits of those who sacrificed to accomplish their goals.

An exceptional athletic record has been added to East Catholic's heritage by the Green Berets this first year. Supporting this record, is a vital spirit that is already growing as a proud tradition.

To be a champ is more than winning the game. Success depends on unity and strength, on togetherness; and so, together in the East to the West... let joy resound!

Brave Berets

Blast Rivals

With desire to win, and courage to accomplish it, East Catholic High brings home its first East-side Championship.

Late in July, Coach Mr. Harold Popp and his coaching staff took up the task of uniting four high school teams: Sts. Charles, Catherine, Rose and Annunciation.

Coaches stressed discipline, need for teamwork, pride and desire to win.

By Sept. 17, Berets were in top condition for first encounter with St. David's Pilots.

From the fine backing given by Coach Popp and staff, Booster Club, fans, faculty, Green Berets climbed the pinnacle of success by attaining a nearly perfect season, boasting a record of 6-1-1 despite a tough loss in the East-West Championship game against St. Francis Cabrini, 13-0.

With the first year, now history, ECH hopes to continue their winning ways. To make this a reality, future teams will have to pull together, work hard, and possess great determination.

After a long, rough, rewarding season, coach Popp strides away

Blocking and running the name of the game—BERETS display both Al Henderson (17), Mike Abner (76), Bob Cox (66), Gabby Leone (20) lead the way for JEFF SINCLAIR (18).

Farley, Joe Dudley, Leroy Allen, Jeff Sinclair, Coach John Gianfermi. Absent - Jim Kelly

Split Seconds Determine Varsity's Fate

The steady pace of sneakers on gym floor . . . the shrill blast of a whistle . . . the familiar smell of sweaty socks . . . a short prayer coinciding with a quick leap toward a basket . . . the shout of cheers . . . stomping of feet . . . reaching a crescendo in the confined space of the gym . . . chaos in the shower room . . . the triumph of victory . . . the agony of defeat.

Basketball is a challenge to the speed and dexterity of even the most agile athlete. The scores run up quickly; tension mounts as first one team, then another takes the lead . . . but it is all in the game which is quickly relived afterwards at Gino's.

Referee goes over pre-game procedure and tactics with Captains Joe Dudley and Bill McFarley.

Seniors

We saw Seniors, rings and pictures . . . Joy is Senior year! Memories of these will linger, like the ring upon the finger, Joy is Senior year! . . . Anxiously standing on the threshold of a new life, we the Seniors of 1968, pause and reflect over the past four years of our high school life.

With the closing of four different high schools, we have left a part of us behind in joining together this first year to unite a part of ourselves to the beginning of a new high.

Self-sacrifice and determination have brought us tightly together. Proud of our achievements, and a bit saddened that we could not have met sooner, we leave our Alma Mater with enlightened minds and strengthened hearts.

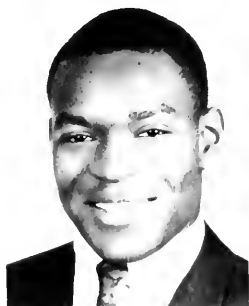

ECH has made us realize we must face the future with unity, courage and trust in God. With gratefulness and pride, with tears of joy we don caps and gowns, bid farewell to the past . . . welcome to the future . . . From East to West let joy resound!

Congratulations!

Columbus landed on an island and discovered two continents he hadn't dreamed of. Discovery is like that.
It always creates new challenges.

We hope you'll look upon your high school diploma that way
And use it as a base of exploration that will take you on to college and the challenges which await you there.

By the time you graduate,
you will have found a few answers.
And discovered many more questions
Then you'll be ready to start exploring again.

Joy Prevails

ECHO Ends

Beginnings never end, for every end is a new beginning. Our first year at East Catholic has indeed been a beginning to build to the heights of the future.

Anxious excitement filled the first September days. Confusion and distress were common among every grade till we finally caught hold of individual identity and planted roots firmly in solid earth.

We have experienced the struggles present at the first moments of life. Even more important, we have managed to survive, to sprout new shoots of unity that will forever remain as the foundation of ECH.

ECHO 1968 has tried to capture every wonder of the first moments of our life. The previous pages document our existence, recall the gladness and sorrow, the determined efforts and satisfying results which together we have come to know at ECH.

As we close this book, we do so, not with a sigh of relief, but with a proclamation of Joy and Hope that our ending is another new beginning. That the world may know of our exuberance... from East to West let JOY resound!

Deborah Mangold

ECHO Yearbook staff of 1968 presents a generous applause to:
Mr. Russ Whitehead of Modern Yearbook Company,
Mr. Frank Ortman of Craine's Studios,
Sister Marie John, adviser of ECHO.

We are indebted to Mr. Martin Keck, Principal and the Faculty for their co-operation in aiding the Staff. THANK-YOUs are in order for Ralph Morasso, editor-in-chief, to the Juniors and Seniors who gave so generously of their time and efforts to the last minute of the last hour before the last deadline.

Finally, we patronize our advertisers who contributed to the first volume of East Catholic High Observer.
